Plastercrafts is a well-established, family run business that prides itself on the highest level of craftsmanship, with a second to none eye for detail. All cornices and ceiling roses are hand cast by us using traditional methods. As well as offering one of Scotland's most extensive ranges of cornices and ceiling roses, we also specialise in cornice restoration from plain to very ornate cornices and ceiling roses. We can also make up one off bespoke cornices and ceiling roses, created to the customers' specifications.

Come and see our gallery at Holyrood Architectural Salvage, Holyrood Business Park, or alternatively, we can arrange a free site visit with some samples to help you with your choice.

Bespoke Ceiling Roses

Individual element roses are how they were traditionally installed and are the preference for direct replacements, in both Georgian and Victorian listed buildings. These elements can be mixed and matched in an unlimited variety to individual styles and tastes, to create bespoke and original pieces.

CR022

Diameter: 1040mm

This ceiling rose was removed and restored from a Victorian town house in Bonnington Grove. Each of the 26 elements and 2 rings are individually cast.
